Happy Hour at the Hirshhorn Starts Aug. 10

Evenings of Art and Conversation Feature Extended Gallery Hours

The Smithsonian's Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden is offering Happy Hour at the Hirshhorn, in collaboration with "SMITHSONIAN at 8," every Monday, Aug. 10–Sept. 14, 5 p.m.–8:30 p.m. Galleries will be open late, so visitors can view exhibitions such as "Shirin Neshat: Facing History" and "At the Hub of Things: New Views of the Collection." Admission is free, and there is a cash bar, operated by Tortoise and Hare Bar and Grille. Last call to enter the galleries and to order drinks is 8 p.m.
